'Approved Counsellors' are counsellors who are recognised under the Human Reproductive Act 1991 as possessing relevant tertiary qualifications, clinical experience and knowledge relating to issues associated with infertility. Counsellors must demonstrate evidence of ongoing professional development and awareness of technological developments in this field.

Donor linking is the process whereby donor conceived individuals, donors and/or parents of donor conceived children seek to share identifying information. The 'Approved Counsellors' who have nominated to provide donor linking counselling services are marked with an asterisk *
